A deliberate attempt on the part of a licence holder to flout the order of the Provincial Textile Controller and withholding of the information called for without any reasonable cause, would afford sufficient ground for Government to resort to the provisions of clause 8A of the Bombay Cotton Cloth Dealers Licensing Order, 1943. It is advisable to keep a record of the reasons for the cancellation of the licences though no reason need be communicated to the licence holders. Whether it would be wise to cancel as many as 2000 licences at once would be a matter for Government to decide.
